

Where in Italy can I find fire-resistant cable trays

AI Overview

You can find fire-resistant cable trays in Italy from leading manufacturers such as Spina Group, SITIE Impianti Industriali, SATI Italia, Zamet, and FEMI-CZ, all offering high-quality, certified solutions for industrial and infrastructure projects. Top Manufacturers and Suppliers

Spina Group (Schiavetti Tekno) offers stainless steel, galvanised, and wire-mesh cable trays suitable for high-temperature and fire-resistant applications. Their closed-bottom trays (FC series) provide excellent cable isolation and thermal protection, while ladder and perforated trays ensure ventilation and durability. Spina Group products comply with EN and UL standards and are widely used in industrial plants, energy facilities, and infrastructure projects . SITIE Impianti Industriali specializes in industrial cable trays designed for harsh environments, including perforated, solid-bottom, and custom designs. Their trays are engineered for high load capacity and fire safety, making them ideal for heavy-duty applications . SATI Italia produces modular cable carrier systems that are lightweight yet durable, meeting international safety and quality standards. Their systems are suitable for energy, construction, and automation sectors, offering fire-resistant options for complex installations . Zamet SPA provides fully customizable cable tray systems, including ladder, wire mesh, and solid-bottom trays. Their products are designed for corrosion resistance and high load capacity, with options suitable for fire-resistant installations in industrial and infrastructure projects . FEMI-CZ manufactures high-performance metal cable trunking and ladder trays for civil and industrial plants, including transport, energy, and oil & gas sectors. They offer mesh and ladder trays with excellent ventilation, load capacity, and fire-resistant properties, as well as GRP (fiberglass reinforced) options for specialized application...
